DAIRY INDUSTRY IN WEBER COUNTY

Remarkable Growth as Traced From the First Milch Cow Which Came With the Pioneers-Fine Animals Are Being Added to the Herds in This Region.

More than 60 years ago, or to be, and prospered until the outlook is a exact, in the summer of 1847, as the most satisfactory one indeed. first Mormon immigrant train finished its journey across the desert and approached the rugged trails which lead westward over the mountains, an ob-server would have noted that many of the beasts of burden were cows. Not the sleek coated, stall-fed animals with which we of today are famillar, but gaunt, hollow-eyed speci-mens of bovinity with their hoofs protected with crude iron shoes and their necks creased deeply by the yokes which bound them to an unnatural

Each evening, as the day's tramp came to an end, these patient beasts were again called on for an addi-tional toll. For the sustenance of the babes-in-arms and those who had fallen ill on the trail the parched ud-ders were eagerly stripped for their contents, few yielding more than a scant cupful.

As the caravan crept on over the mountains, feed grew scarcer and the milk supply slowly dwindled in proportion. At last the summit overlook-ing Salt Lake valley was reached and as the weary pilgrims looked down upon the Land of Promise their excitement was no more marked than was that of these animals, who, scenting the fresh fodder from afar, moved restlessly in their harness, impatient to complete their journey.

It was not until the morning of July 5, 1847, that the first wagons descended into the lowlands, the heavy yokes were thrown to the ground and the emaciated animals were al lowed to graze of their own free will-This was the commencement of the

This was the commencement of the dairy business in Utah.

Since that time dairying, especially in Weber county has flourished as only an industry can when climate, soil and every natural resource are in perfect and complete harmony. During the sixty years that have elapsed grazing on the open range has gradually succeeded, through irrigation, to stall-fed cattle. Better-bred animals have constantly been added and in every way the industry has grown.

BY CEMENT COMPANY

The Union Portland Cement com pany has filed suit against the Big Lost River Irrigation company in the United States district court at Boise, Idaho, for $14,000. The action is the foreclosing of a mechanic's lien and is the second suit brought against the irrigation company by local parties, the first being brought by the Warren Corey Construction company for $2,30,000.

The Big Lost River Irrigation company is capatalized at $2,000,000 and is located at Mackay, Idaho. It has a water supply large enough to irri-gate 100,000 acres of land.

While the company is believed to have plenty of financial resources, there appears to be a lack there appears to be a lack of ready money and for this reason it has never settled the bills held against it by the complainants. The Corey Construc-tion suit was brought more than a week ago but the papers in the cement company's action have just been filed. Both suits are being handled by the H. H. Henderson law firm.

DYNAMITE FOUND IN VACANT HOUSE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16 .- The discovery tonight of 500 pounds of dy-namite hidden in an untenanted house near the bay in South San Francisco threw the detectives working on the Los Angeles Times explosion case in to new spasms of activity and cast an inky darkness over clews hitherto considered brilliant of promise. The dynamite was contained in ten boxes of 50 pounds each addressed to J. B. Brysen and is supposed to be the same lot purchased by three men from the Giant Powder Works September 20. The theory that the much hunted Bryce" and "Perry," "the squint-eyed man," who purchased the giant of the same lot purchased was contained in the squint-eyed man," who purchased the giant of the squint-eyed man, and the squint-eyed man and the squint-eyed man, and the squint-eyed near the bay in South San Francisco eyed man," who purchased the glant 000000000000000 powder after much plotting and took it away in the launch Pastime were the men responsible for the Times horror apparently is riddled, but the discovery opens new and highly important leads and keeps these mys-terious plotters in the spotlight.

James C. O'Brien, owner of the house at 7622 Nineteenth avenue, South San Francisco, where the dynamile was found, was responsible for the discovery. It appears that on September 24 a man giving the name of William Catt who answers the descriptions of the third man who accompanied "Bryce" and Perry" to the Giant Powder Works, rented the Nineteenth avenue house of a real estate firm. That night Mrs. John Fox, a neighbor, saw two men drive up to the house in a delivery wagon. The wagon contained a load covered by two large pieces of canvass. The wagon was unloaded, the men drove off and no one has been seen around the house since that time.

O'Brien today decided to go out to the house and see who his new ten-ants were. He found it empty and in the parlor the boxes of dynamite.

One box was open and as soon as O'Brien saw that it contained dyna-mite he notified the police.

Captain Ryan, dynamite expert of the local detective department, found that the dynamite was of the type which was placed near the residence of F J. Zeehandlaar, secretary of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association in Los Angeles, the day after the Times explosion. It was 80 per cent gelatin dynamite, bearing the gi-ant label. The box that had been opened held dynamite that had been manufactured by the Hercules Powder com-pany, which is situated in Contra Costa county near the Giant Works. This powder was of forty per cent gelatin.
